(Fig. 1: Location of the login)

5. The form asks information about your organization, the company URL, the job responsibilities of the organization and a link to your software. You are able to connect your vendor-profil with more than one paypal account. To do so, just click on the add Paypal account button. If you accidentally clicked it, and want to remove one PayPal Account-tab, just click on the delete-button. Finally, you have to provide some information about your motivation and a quick software-description.
